“ My condolences to the family. I knew John through his son, Dave, when we were dating back in high school and have many fond memories of him. He was a very considerate and kind man. I ran into him at random times when I was working at Eastman Kodak years later and he always stopped to take time to talk to me to ask what was going on in my life. I know he will be missed by many.

“ I was John's secretary in his last last position at Kodak. He had asked me to stay until he retired because he knew it would only be a "short time" and I had planned to leave to stay home with my 1-year old son. It turned out that John was just so valuable that several years went by before they "allowed" him to retire. I had another son a couple years later but kept my promise to stay with him until he retired -- I never regretted one single day. John was the most admirable, smart and kind individual I ever came across or had the honor to work with in my career at Kodak and also in my life. We stayed in contact and he treated me and two other of his former secretaries at lunch at Locust Hill before Christmas for quite a few years. He actually apologized to us when he told us he just couldn't continue doing it since his eyesight and health were wearing him down.

It was truly my honor to have worked for and with him and to have had the privilege of knowing him.

“ John was the very best example of an inspiring leader that truly cared about people. He would put time on his calendar to just walk around and speak to his team members. He touched each of us with his kind heart and gentle manner. It was such a joy to work for him.
