I met Wendy in 1974 in art class at Cerro Villa Jr. High School. I couldn't believe that someone so beautiful wanted to be my friend. She taught me many things in life: how to dress, how to fix my hair, how to smoke and how to be mischievous but stay out of trouble. I told her all my secrets, and she never let me down. Her last lesson to me was the greatest. To live each day to its fullest, to cherish lifes gifts, love your family and eat Panda Paws.

My warm and happy memories of Wendy go way back to the days of playing together on the Mousaw Vigdor championship volleyball team! Wendy's exuberance for living life to its fullest was clear in all that she did. Your boys are clear evidence of the loving home that you both provided for them. I pray that your family can gain some comfort in knowing how many people loved and were blessed by Wendy. From, Steve and Kate Karl

“ You can rest now, dear friend. Your spirit will be with me when I play the games you taught me with the Girl Scouts, when I travel in time with Jamie and Claire, when I see a vibrant and warm print that reminds of you. The memories of your gutsy, fun loving spirit will be an inspiration in my heart always.

“ My dear friend Wendy - You must be so very proud of you wonderful husband and sons as they have been the caring and compassionate young men you know them to be. I will always hold you and them close to my heart and will keep my promise to you forever! Love you and miss having you here physically, but know you are with us in spirit forever. I will see you on the other side someday. Your honored friend, Karen

“ I know Wendy through Suzanne St. Clair. We stood next to each other in her wedding and I lent her my room when she came to visit. She was a bubbly girl with so much life. Heaven is blessed to have her with them now. My prayers are for Dan and the boys to help them get through this time of mourning.

Kelly KuCala-Patchett - February 15, 2005 at 09:36 PM

“ I am a good friend of Suzanne St. Claire's who loved Wendy very much. I know any woman who is a friend of Suz's is a good woman who I would have liked to have as a friend. My thoughts and prayers are with your family and friends.

Charlotte Finklea - February 15, 2005 at 09:22 PM

“ What a beautiful woman, that Wendy! I'll always remember her smiling. My thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ Dan, I am so very sorry for you and your family. I know Wendy is very special, because of how you would light up when you spoke of her. I pray for God to ease your sorrow and pain, and bring you and the boys through this difficult time. Wendy will live on always in your hearts. God bless and be with you and your family now and always.

Robin Norman - February 09, 2005 at 07:13 PM

“ I met Wendy in our book club, and I always enjoyed her company. Her warmth and humor, as well as her wonderful insights into the books we shared will always be treasured memories for me. I will always think of her sitting in the evening sun of a warm summer day, sharing her thoughts on our latest selection while sipping the delightful Sangria she made for us. I will miss her very much.

Linda Gathmann - February 09, 2005 at 06:48 PM

“ Dan and family: I was very saddened to hear of Wendy passing. May the pain your family is feeling today be overwhelmed by the warm loving memories of yesterday. Wendy will remain in the hearts of many for a lifetime. You and the boys are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ Dear Dan, We will keep our memories of Wendy close to our hearts. As for fond memories, there are many. Whenever there was a party and someone had an idea to stir things up, Wendy was right in the middle of the fun. I remember us all switching dresses at a NY's eve party at Club 86, and then the husbands pretending not to notice. I also remember a party at our house when Wendy, my sisters and a few other close friends pulled out items from my closet to wear -things that I never wore again and wondered what I was thinking to ever have bought them in the first place. Wendy and the girls spent the rest of the evening scheming up ways to make people laugh. Dan, you and Wendy have been an inspiration to us all during the last few years. There are no adequate words to express how saddened we are by your loss. Our very deepest sympathies to you, Brett and Bryce. Love, Sally and Bob

Paula Morton - February 08, 2005 at 04:58 PM

“ Dan, Brett and Bryce, My heart is broken for you. I am truly sorry for your loss. Wendy was very courageous in her fight with cancer. As you Dan, have been courageous as well. I know this time will seem long and hard, remember that the Lord will listen at your darkest moments. Wendy's memory will give you strength and move you forward. You have been very strong Dan we all have faith that you will get through this. I am here if you are in need of anything. It's never too late to call or to much to ask. A little thought for you..... Some one cares for you. He knows your present circumstances. He knows our very thoughts. And he is calling out to you now; "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give your rest." Matthew 11:28 This scripture has given me peace so many times in my life when I thought just couldn't go on. I hope it does the same for you.

“ Dan, No words can express our sorrow for your loss. Wendy was the love of your life. True love is so hard to find, and you did. I know you and your sons will truly miss Wendy, the glue of your family. As Thoreau said, "Better to have loved and lost, than to never have loved at all." Your family had so much love. I express my deepest sympathy. Chris

Chris Graveley - February 08, 2005 at 04:24 PM

“ Dan and boys, My thoughts and prayers are with you now and in the coming days. May you move forward in life knowing Wendy is no longer in pain and will always be in your hearts.

“ Although I had never met Wendy, I felt I knew her through the wonderful, caring members of Mothers & More. She should be admired for her courage, love, and unbelievable strength. My heart goes out to Dan, Brett, Bryce, and all the family and friends Wendy's life has touched. I hope they and Wendy have finally found peace.

Heidi Kerwin - February 07, 2005 at 06:03 PM

“ Dan and Family: Wendy was an inspiration during her illness to all of us - reminding us how precious life is. Her courage and conviction to live was truly remarkable and we are all blessed to have known such an incredible wife and mother. She will live on in her beautiful children and the love she shared with you.

Lisa Philippone - February 07, 2005 at 03:29 PM

“ Dear Dan, Brett and Bryce, I believe that tears can heal, that memories can comfort; that love lives on forever. I believe life is but a journey leading to the perfect home. Your wife and mommy is home with Jesus. She is at peace. As you look up into the Sky and marvel on the stars, remember Wendy's spirit is one of those stars soaring through the sky. Her light is the light that shines in Heaven. Her light is her love shining down upon you. This light lets you know she is with you always. Please give yourselves time, time to grieve at your own pace. Heal in your own time and however long it takes. Be graceful to each other. You all will be in our prayers, thoughts and hearts. Blessings, Nancy, David, Matthew and Stephanie Ingalls
